

To use a microphone, here are the options –

Next, locate the volume control for the microphone on the right side of the screen:

They can use the wireless microphone unit that works with the Shure system on the top of the rack system:

Or, if they have a XLR connector on their microphone they can plug in to the system's sound by unplugging the cable at the rear of the Shure system.

Then use that connection to feed into their microphone.
